

“Classrooms Rock”

Learn how iPad can bring the latest digital music solutions into your curriculum. A free event from Apple.

Rock on.

It's not just about the iPod, dude. With the emergence of iPad, Apple introduces a new generation of digital creation apps and tools designed to energize music instruction. At this FREE half-day event, Apple education specialists take center stage to bring you creative yet affordable solutions that bring new levels of excitement to your classroom music projects -- and possibly your entire curriculum.

Tune up.

Apple revolutionized music instruction almost a decade ago with GarageBand on the Mac. Now, with the amazing NEW GarageBand, your iPad is transformed into a collection of Touch Instruments along with a full-featured recording studio -- so you can make music anywhere you go.

Use Multi-Touch gestures to play pianos, guitars, drums and more on your iPad. Create a song anywhere, backed by hundreds of professional-quality prerecorded loops. Enjoy a full range of Smart Instruments that make you sound like a pro -- even if you've never played a note before. And then export your masterpiece to GarageBand on your Mac, or share it with iTunes on a Mac or PC.

At this event, you will also rediscover new ways to work with digital photos, movies, music and more with all-new iLife '11.

Plus, you'll learn iPad and iOS management “tips and tricks.” We'll examine some of the basic, and extended, methods for harnessing the iPad's power in our classrooms. From activating and configuring with iTunes, to managing and syncing iOS devices, we'll explore the essentials that make this an impressive part of your lesson plans.
