

2010 Teachers as Artists Fellows

Jennifer S. Berry (Westwood, MA)

William McKinley South End Academy (South End)

Will train in Readers Theatre with The Readers Theatre Institute in Chicago, IL for two weeks.

Christina M. Bynoe (Brookline, MA)

Blackstone Elementary School (South End)

Will study under the umbrella of theatre avatar, Ellen Stewart, the founder of La MaMa Experimental Theatre Club for three weeks at the 11th Annual La MaMa International Symposium for Directors, in Spoleto, Italy.

Carolyn Diviacchi (Allston, MA)

Donald McKay K-8 (East Boston)

Will study drawing and tonal painting techniques at the International School for Drawing, Painting, and Sculpture in Montecastello di Vibio, Italy.

Martha J. Kempe (Milton, MA)

Mather Elementary School (Dorchester)

Will participate in a residential painting course in Benaraba, Spain in order to experience Spanish art, architecture, and culture. Ms. Kempe will paint alongside a group of international artists, all under the expert tutelage of professional artist, Marion Henke, and to paint while traveling to Seville and Madrid to view the Spanish masterpieces in museums and experience the culturally rich architectural landmarks.

Kim Taylor Knight (South End-Boston, MA)

Curley K-8 School (Jamaica Plain)

Will participate in workshops at the Laban/Bartenieff Institute of Movement Studies and in open classes at Alvin Ailey American Dance Center in New York City to renew and refresh choreographic skills.

Kathleen Osul (Southborough, MA)

Snowden International School (Back Bay)

Will participate in a photography workshop with mentoring artist Peter Turnley in Istanbul, Turkey for one week.

Paul J. Pitts (Jamaica Plain, MA)

Boston Latin School (Fenway)

Will study African drumming and dance for three weeks at The Dagbe Cultural Center in Kopeyla, Ghana.

Sally Wattles (Roxbury, MA)

Roosevelt K-8 (Hyde Park)

Will participate in a painting workshop at Ghost Ranch Conference Center in Abiquiu, NM to study Georgia O'Keefe's home landscape and painting styles. Will also travel to Yosemite National Park to explore Albert Bierstadt's inspiration and work.